Judgment and Response to Defendants 3rd
Motion for Summary Judgment

Plaintiff

James McDonald
v.
OneWest Bank, FSB,
Northwest Trustee Services,
Mortgage Electronic Registration Systems,
Defendants.

Charles Chong declares as follows:

1. I was Mr. McDonald's supervisor from May 2005 to February 2007 at Indymac Bank, FSB. I am over the age of 18. I have direct, personal knowledge of the matters referred to herein.

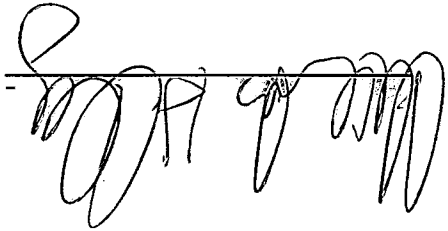

2. I worked closely with Mr. McDonald during my time with Indymac Bank. During that time, I watched him become an outstanding account executive with a deep rooted integrity and the continuous drive to excel and develop a vast array of skill sets.

3. One of the skill sets he honed was his ability to detect fraudulent documentation. He personally reviewed almost every file that was submitted by his clients into the Bellevue, Washington operations center to ensure accuracy and honesty. He developed that skill by learning from the Quality Control employees on how to identify fraudulent documentation. He became very adept in discovering falsified or altered signatures, altered statements and

1 tax returns and a variety of other suspicious factors. He was relentless in pursuing the
2 termination of any loan officer, branch or mortgage broker that submitted fraud to Indymac
3 and personally terminated offenders on a regular basis.

6 I declare under the penalty of perjury under the laws of the State of Washington that the
